Bolechowo, 05.08.2022

It's our pleasure to present the latest issue of Solaris Customer Magazine. It is available in Polish, English and German and its digital version has been adapted for mobile devices. Happy reading!

Solaris has been publishing its Customer Magazine for over 20 years now. Its latest issue contains numerous interesting articles – after all we have not slowed down our activities. In the last few weeks we signed a contract for our 2000th electric bus. A lot of space has been dedicated to e-mobility revolution that is happening here and now. In our Magazine we also introduce our latest bus model to you, the 18-metre hydrogen-powered vehicle. Its launch will be accompanied by the third edition of our #SolarisTalks conference. Moreover, we write about the first deliveries of the Urbino 9 LE electric bus, development projects we are part of, improved products, and new contracts. Ample space has been devoted to hydrogen technology. We also take a closer look at ESG matters and report on our educational programme #CityMission. These are just a few of the numerous subjects we proudly cover in the latest issue of the Solaris Customer Magazine.

Our Magazine is available in Polish, English and German. Its digital version has been optimised for mobile devices and is available HERE.

May the Magazine be a source of many inspirations for you! Happy reading!
